NEW FRANKEN, WI— July 1, 2014. Dental Health Products, Inc. makes a substantial equipment donation to Oral Health Partnership (OHP), a nonprofit organization dedicated to providing dental care to uninsured and underinsured children in Brown County, WI. OHP cares for patients at fixed clinics at Howe Resource Center and The Kroc Center. In addition, member dentists, hygienists and assistants travel to different schools with mobile equipment up to 5 days a week to create in-school dental offices. Funding for OHP comes from Medicaid reimbursements and grants, as well as individual and company donations.

“Through the support of $14,000 in in-kind equipment donation from Dental Health Products, the facility at the Howe Resource Center was able to be expanded from a one-room dental facility to a four-chair dental clinic with separate waiting rooms, treatment rooms and infection control rooms,” states Carrie Stempksi, OHP Executive Director. “This renovation will allow the clinic to see more children, more efficiently and increase their access to care.”

There are more than 11,000 school children in Brown County alone that are in need of dental care, but don't have access to it. OHP helps serve those children by providing dental care to Green Bay Area Public School students aged Pre-K through grade 12. Services include exams, x-rays, cleanings, fillings, extractions, oral hygiene instructions and other clinically indicated procedures.

“Our community members like Dental Health Products are huge contributors to our success, states Carrie Stempksi. DHPI services such as same day delivery, equipment repair and monetary donations ensure our multiple OHP clinics are examples of state-of-the art facilities.”

“DHPI is pleased to offer support to organizations especially those who are local to DHPI. OHP does wonderful work and we are pleased to support their efforts any way we can” states Steve Desautel, Vice President Sales and Marketing for DHPI.
